

Medical Headband

This product is designed for Biotech360 Inc., USA. This device is designed for health monitoring of patients who is bedridden. So this device has a belt like structure which fits on forehead. It is wireless device which will receive body health data through 4 different sensors which will have contact to body attached on belt with battery and PCB provision.

